Lund Harbour Authority Neil Gustafson

"Work in Progress"

1. The two additional washrooms are plumbed and tiles have been laid as of today.
2. The Harbour float anchoring system is upgraded with new anchors in place.
3. The newly installed Sewer Pumpout Station for boaters is near completion. The sewer line is installed and hooked up to the force main to the sewer treatment plant. The higher capacity pump required for the force main is expected to be installed the first week in July.
4. The wharf head derrick had maintenance for worn bushings and a damaged relay completed so it's back in operation. Extreme caution needs to be exercised when using this derrick. Unauthorized tampering can occur.
5. Garbage collection at the wharf head by Nadine appears to be positive for handling boating garbage.

Well it has been kind of an unpredictable spring, hasn't it? Alternating hot sunny days with cool rainy ones. Not bad for the gardens though, and appreciated by the deer, especially the young twins who are grazing their way around the delicacies of Lund.

There's an abundance of berries and fruit this year. The salmon berries are done and the blackberries are ripening nicely. We are already eating the cherries off the trees in our yard and it looks like there will be lots of apples and pears to follow.

It's great to see that Nancy is FINALLY open and those of us who are addicted to her cinnamon buns can satisfy their cravings. But don't stop there. She's got a new amazingly extensive menu and, like a deer, I plan to graze my way through it this summer.

I went to the last meeting of the Lund Community Society and was told that work is under way to renovate the Community Centre (former school). Apparently the wall dividing two classrooms will be removed to create one large, rentable space. More potlucks?

The boardwalk is finished. Try a short stroll one warm summer evening and read the engravings in the planks, then follow the cement steps up to Longacre Road to Murray Road, Larson Road, along the Highway then back to the Harbour. This makes a pleasant loop for an evening stroll through the neighbourhood!

Yes, Lund's Historical Society has been busy. If you've been on the boardwalk recently, you will have noticed that a good many of the planks have been engraved and more are on their way. In fact, the sale of planks was so popular that they have now sold out. Sorry, but there are no more planks available.

The waterwheel was repaired and, on June 28th, it was carefully lifted into place with the help of Pierre's crane. Thanks, Pierre! After two days of adjustments and fine tuning, the waterwheel finally turned. It still turns. And will continue to turn as long as there is water in Thulin Creek to turn it.

The wheelhouse has been converted into a visitor info kiosk and is staffed by Tanya, a summer student. She knows the Lund, Okeover and Savary Island areas and has met most of the business owners and operators. If you haven't had the fortune to meet Tanya, please stop by and introduce yourself.

The purpose of the visitor info kiosk is to provide a central source for visitors to access information about the Lund area. As much as possible, the information dispensed at the kiosk is kept current and relevant. If you are a business owner and would like to have your brochures, business cards or information distributed through the kiosk and linked to Lund's web site (www.lundbc.ca), there is a $50 annual fee. For details and registration, talk to Tanya at the kiosk or contact Ann at 483-9220 or annsnow@telus.net.

A Bit of Fun . . . Leviticus Style

Dr. Laura Schlessinger is a US radio personality who dispenses advice to people who call in to her radio show. Recently she said that, as an observant Orthodox Jew, homosexuality is an abomination according to Leviticus 18:22, and cannot be condoned under any circumstances.

The following is an open letter to Dr. Laura, penned by a US resident, which was posted on the Internet. It's funny as well as informative:

Dear Dr. Laura:

Thank you for doing so much to educate people regarding God's Law. I have learned a great deal from your show and try to share that knowledge with as many people as I can. When someone tries to defend the homosexual lifestyle, for example, I simply remind them that Leviticus 18:22 clearly states it to be an abomination. End of debate.

I do need some advice from you, however, regarding some of the other specific laws and how to follow them.

1. When I burn a bull on the altar as a sacrifice, I know it creates a pleasing odor for the Lord - Lev. 1:9. The problem is my neighbours. They claim the odour is not pleasing to them. Should I smite them?
2. I would like to sell my daughter into slavery, as sanctioned in Exodus 21:7. In this day and age, what do you think would be a fair price for her?
3. I know that I am allowed no contact with a woman while she is in her period of menstrual cleanliness - Lev. 15:19-24. The problem is, how do I tell? I have tried asking, but most women take offense.
4. Lev. 25:44 states that I may indeed possess slaves, both male and female, provided they are purchased from neighbouring nations. A friend of mine claims that this applies to Mexicans but not Canadians. Can you clarify? Why can't I own Canadians?
5. I have a neighbour who insists on working on the Sabbath. Exodus 35:2 clearly states he should be put to death. Am I morally obligated to kill him myself?
6. A friend of mine feels that even though eating shellfish is an abomination - Lev. 11:10, it is a lesser abomination than homosexuality. I don't agree. Can you settle this?
7. Lev. 21:20 states that I may not approach the altar of God if I have a defect in my sight. I have to admit that I wear reading glasses. Does my vision have to be 20/20 or is there some wiggle room here?
8. Most of my male friends get their hair trimmed, including the hair around their temples, even though this is expressly forbidden by Lev. 19:27. How should they die?
9. I know from Lev. 11:6-8 that touching the skin of a dead pig makes me unclean, but may I still play football if I wear gloves?
10. My uncle has a farm. He violates Lev. 19:19 by planting two different crops in the same field, as does his wife by wearing garments made of two different kinds of thread (cotton/polyester blend). He also tends to curse and blaspheme a lot. It is really necessary to we go to all the trouble of getting the whole town together to stone them - Lev. 24:10-16? Couldn't we just burn them to death at a private family affair like we do with people who sleep with their in-laws - Lev. 20:14?

I know you have studied these things extensively, so I am confident you can help. Thank you again for reminding us that God's word is eternal and unchanging.

Your devoted fan,

Jim

Wild Hope

by Willow Dunlop

School is almost out, the weather is warming up, and thoughts of summertime adventures are not far behind. Down in Lund at the Terracentric Coastal Adventures, Ltd. office, preparations for Wild Hope, one of our most anticipated summer programs, are in full swing. Wild Hope is a 7 day outdoor and environmental leadership gathering for youth who want to make a difference in the world. Wild Hope is open to 30 participants, ages 14-18, from all across our bioregion, from Northern Washington to Coastal BC, and financial aid is available.

Through an ongoing partnership between Terracentric and the Bellingham-based non-profit organization The Power of Hope, an amazing team of artists, musicians, writers, environmental activists, outdoor educators & First Nations community leaders come together to present creative, empowering workshops and adventure activities. Throughout the week, this team supports a progression of connecting with, learning from and acting on behalf of nature.

Because it can sometimes be difficult for young people to find healthy recreation in isolated communities, Terracentric is especially proud to be able to offer this opportunity to young people in our area. Some of our broader intentions in offering this camp are to work towards bridging the past and present of this land and its inhabitants, and to support young people in establishing a creative and authentic dialogue around issues of the environment & culture.

In the past, this camp has proven to be a very powerful tool for building bridges of understanding and friendship between urban and rural, as well as native and non-native youth. Similarly, the creativity and spirit of adventure fostered by this outdoor program seeks to build capacity so that young people might feel encouraged to participate in negotiating future relationships between industry and the environment. Providing these opportunities for young people to realize their potential and support each other is an investment in the overall wellness of our community both now and for years to come. In the past two years, extensive fundraising done by the Powell River Youth Advisory Council has allowed many youth to be able to take part in this experience, and the ongoing support of the wider community in sponsoring youth to attend or in providing supplies/services is greatly appreciated.

This year, Wild Hope will run from August 21st to 28th in a remote sea-side location outside of Lund. Wild Hope has room for 30 participants, so register now to be part of the adventure. To download your registration forms free or to find out more about scholarships, check out www.powerofhope.org or phone Terracentric Coastal Adventures, Ltd. at 604-483-7900.

Thanks are due to all those generous souls who keep donating all their refundable cans and bottles to the Fire Department. Angus and I will continue to process these - taking them either to the BC Liquor Store or Encorp' for refunds.

Recycling requires that different plastics have to be separated and in this regard it would be of great help if 'donators' could remove the caps on both plastic and glass bottles before putting them in the bins (or bags). This would save us considerable time. Thanks again.

1. Socializing now and again can be beneficial when you're in the company of women who are expert gardeners. My neighbour has discovered a foolproof barrier for slugs in her garden. she constructs a wall of oyster shells, either around each of her plants, or a square wall around small areas. Not only do the slugs avoid this climb, but it creates an artistic mosaic of shapes which is appealing to the eye. She also makes wine from wild rose petals.
2. Since we're on the subject of gardens, when I make myself a lavender-scented bath, I tie a handful of either fresh or dry lavender flowers in a double layered cheesecloth. Just hook this over the bathtub spigot and allow the warm water to flow over the lavender as the tub is filling. I also pick wild rose petals when in bloom and use the same method. Some of this perfumed water is great for your final rinse after you've shampooed your hair. Oh, the wonder of flowers.
3. Tea has many great properties and a new one I tried was to brew a very strong pot of tea and clean the top of my oven and the hood over the stove. The tannic acid absorbed the grease, plus it coats the surface for future messes.
4. I tried a great tip passed on to me to keep mosquitoes from landing on me. these pesky critters seem to love the boat. I took a couple of Bounce Fabric Softener sheets and pinned them just above me head. They buzzed around but quickly disappeared to find another victim.
5. Here's a good one for clogged and smelly drains. I pour a handful of baking soda down the drain, followed by ½ cup of white vinegar (this will foam). Cover the hole for 20 minutes, then flush the drain thoroughly with cold water. I use the old baking soda that's been sitting in the back of my fridge. If this doesn't work, well I guess you'll need a plumber.
6. For those of you who suffer from household allergies, this next tip is from a friend who suffers greatly and has followed this advice from the allergy clinic. It was recommended to her that when her vacuum cleaner bag was 1/4 full, it should be replaced. The reason being that 50% of the suction power is lost, and will pass 50% of the dust, pet hair, etc, right back into the air. Seems like a costly venture but well worth it.
7. A few years ago I helped a friend look after a sweet white Terrier. We discovered the dog had fleas. We were concerned about chemical products but discovered this organic rinse. Once the dog was shampooed with a flea shampoo (organic and pricey) we proceeded to rinse the dog with the follow. We took several handfuls of rosemary and boiled and strained the potion. Once cooled, we put the dog in the rinse. The Terrier came out soft and fluffy but her fur turned a light green. The owner was quite surprised to say the least. We found out many months later that the owner used the potion and found it effective. They started to call the dog "Shamrock".
8. If you don't have a paper clip, try using a safety pin!! It works. Have a great summer.
